

New Class Available!

“Challenging Discrimination Against Youth”

Spring, 2005

WHO: Youth and Adults

WHAT: Free six-week class on challenging anti-youth sentiment throughout our society.

WHEN: Every Thursday from 7-8:30pm from April 14 to May 19.

WHERE: Olympia Free School, 808 Jefferson Street in Olympia, next to the downtown Post Office.

WHY: Discrimination against young people in the media, schools, government, and throughout our society is growing. Find out why it matters and what you can do to resist discrimination against youth.

HOW: This class features applied learning that is hands-on, including group work, discussions, readings, and take-home tasks.

Schedule:

- Week One, Thurs. April 14: Introduction to discrimination against youth in society
- Week Two, Thurs. April 21: Exploring discrimination against youth in the media
- Week Three, Thurs. April 28: Exploring discrimination against youth in schools
- Week Four, Thurs. May 5: Exploring discrimination against youth in government
- Week Five, Thurs. May 12: Youth and adults creating resistance to discrimination against youth
- Week Six, Thurs. May 19: Reflecting on discrimination against youth

For more information please call The Freechild Project office at (360)753-2686 or email info@freechild.org.

Learn more about The Freechild Project at

<http://www.freechild.org/aboutus.htm>

Learn more about the Olympia Free School at

<http://www.olympiafreeschool.org>

Download this flyer online at

<http://www.freechild.org/events/spring2005.pdf>

